

K12 Scholars Symposium: Advances in Non-Malignant Hematology

Joseph B. Martin Conference Center at Harvard Medical School
June 17, 2009

7:15-8:00AM	Breakfast / Registration
8:00-8:10AM	Welcome Ellis J. Neufeld, MD, PhD, Harvard Blood Scholars Program Director Ellen Werner, PhD, Program Director, Division of Blood Diseases & Resources, NHLBI
8:15-8:45AM	Paroxysmal Nocturnal Hemoglobinuria: Diagnosis and Management Robert A. Brodsky, MD Director, Division of Hematology, Johns Hopkins
8:50-9:20AM	Heme Trafficking– Bidirectional Translation Janis Abkowitz, MD Head, Division of Hematology, University of Washington Medical Center
9:25-9:55AM	Leveraging Participation of Junior Faculty in Clinical Trials: Lessons from the Silent Cerebral Infarct Transfusion Trial Michael DeBaun, MD, MPH Ferring Family Chair in Pediatrics, Washington University School of Medicine
10:00-10:15AM	Coffee Break
10:15-10:45AM	Translational Medicine in Hematology: From the Clinic to the Research Lab and Back Thomas Ortel, MD, PhD Vice Chair of Basic & Translational Research Director, Hemostasis & Thrombosis Center, Duke University Medical Center
10:50-11:20AM	K12/Shmav12, What's in the Wings? Mortimer Poncz, MD Chief, Division of Hematology, Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
11:25-11:55AM	Mentors and their Messages Edward J. Benz, Jr., MD President, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute

All attendees MUST REGISTER for this event as space is limited!

To register please contact:

Meghan Sullivan

Harvard Blood Scholars, Program Coordinator

meghan.sullivan@childrens.harvard.edu

617-919-2139

www.bloodscholars.org